

A PRIVATE LANDSCAPE CONCEPT FOR THIS DUNWOODY PROPERTY

A clearer entrance. A stronger first impression.

We started with the house you already have—not a stock image—and explored two landscape directions that reveal the architecture and give the entry a more settled rhythm.

THE IDEA IN THREE MOVES

01

Reveal the door

Reduce the oversized shrubs that block the entry and the home's strongest architectural detail.

02

Year-round structure

Use an evergreen backbone first, then layer bloom and texture so the beds still feel intentional in winter.

03

Finish the edge

A consistent low border and clean bed line make the whole composition read as one designed entrance.

See the full comparison

Drag the before/after, compare both directions, and request a 15-minute property consultation.

DIMADIMADIMA.COM/CPL/123SAMPLERD

THE DESIGNER'S EYE · CREEKSIDE PREMIER LANDSCAPING

From first impression to two directions

How Arjun works

Preferences come first. The visual makes two useful directions tangible; a property walk then confirms light, drainage, access, measurements, plants, and a buildable scope.
Atlanta experience since 1987

A PROPERTY WALK CONFIRMS

- Light and drainage
- Exact bed dimensions
- Plant availability
- Hardscape condition

TWO WAYS FORWARD

A — Clean & structured

Clipped evergreen forms, apricot drift roses, and a crisp mondo edge.

B — Natural & layered

Hydrangea, inkberry, grasses, and soft white bloom.

ENTRY REFRESH

$15K–$30K

Entry-focused planting, selective reshaping, bed preparation and finish.

FRONT TRANSFORM

$30K–$55K

Expanded front composition, focal planting, and lighting options.

FRONT + BACK

$55K+

Front transformation plus selected backyard priorities and phasing.

Broad planning ranges only. Final scope and pricing follow an on-property review and written proposal.